LIFESTYLE

HOMETIME is a top-rated series that inspires viewers to take a hands-on approach to home improvement. Hosted by Dean Johnson and Robin Hartl, for 18 years the program's unique format has become a blueprint for success winning a loyal audience on public television.

Each week, the camera captures the fun and frustration that comes with construction. Viewers delight in watching co-hosts Dean and Robin handle real-life problems on the job site coping with mess, delays, disasters and mistakes. While things don't always go as planned, this pair find the best way to get the job done, giving the step-by-step guidance homeowners need to achieve professional looking results. In addition to how-to instruction, the pair provides information on constructing new houses and renovating older homes.

Johnson is a leading home improvement authority who has appeared on GOOD MORNING AMERICA, CNN, OPRAH, and THE TODAY SHOW. Together he and Hartl bring experience, humor and a "can-do" attitude to a wide variety of at-home projects.

This variety is key to the show's success. Whether demonstrating the "how to" of a basic weekend project, or taking you through the elaborate design of a "dream home", Dean and Robin spotlight the latest projects, products and trends in the home improvement market. From the first day of construction through the finishing touches, HOMETIME covers the entire project, with expert advice on how to transform your home.
